JFK VOWS ALL-OUT EFFORT TO AVOID WAR OVER BERLIN

Charges of Piracy Hit Air Hijacker

President Orders Border Patrolmen To Ride Airliners

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI) — The FBI charged an itinerant French artist with crimes on the high seas today for hijacking a Pan American jetliner over Mexico and forcing it to fly to Havana.

The charges were filed in federal court against Albert Charles Cadon, 27, the thin, dark and nervous gunman arrested in Havana before Fidel Castro sent back to this country the $6 million DC8 with its 71 other passengers and 9 crew members.

The U.S. attorney's office recommended that bond for Cadon be set at $100,000 if he ever returns to this country and is apprehended.

In Washington, President Kennedy ordered border patrolmen to ride some U.S. airliners to thwart future hijackings and an angry Senate passed legislation making air piracy punishable by death.

Fourth Plane Theft

Wednesday's hijacking was the fourth of an American plane since May 1.

It was disclosed by Cuban authorities in Havana today that while the Pan American jet was being commandeered over Mexico and taken to Havana at gunpoint, anti-Castro Cubans fought a wild and unsuccessful gun battle aboard a Cuban airliner in an attempt to seize it.

The FBI charged Cadon, a Paris-born resident of New York City, with two crimes on the high seas—assault with a dangerous weapon and assault with intent to commit a felony. The first charge carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine and the second levies a maximum penalty of 10 years and a $3,000 fine.

Cadon told crewmen of the hijacked plane as he stood behind them with a cocked .38-caliber pistol he commanded the plane to protest Washington's "handling of the Algerian situation. He said he wanted independence."

Cadon, the FBI said, was born in France and had worked as a restaurant employee in New York, where his wife, Charlotte, lives.

In Mental Hospital

Mrs. Cadon told federal investigators her husband had been committed to Bellevue Hospital for mental observation last fall. She said he left for Mexico last week after a quarrel.

Three Killed In Another Hijacking Try

HAVANA (UPI) — Anti-Castro Cubans fought soldiers in a wild gunbattle aboard a speeding Cuban airliner Wednesday in an unsuccessful hijacking attempt. Three persons were killed and six wounded in the midair gun fight.

Authorities said the pilot of the plane, which was bound from Havana to the Isle of Pines off Cuba's southern coast, was killed but the copilot managed to make a forced landing in a sugar plantation near the town of Guira de Melena, 30 miles south of the capital.

The attempted hijacking took place about the same time a hijacked Pan American Airways plane was landing at Havana's International Airport.

The dead included one of the hijackers and one of the two military guards aboard the plane.

The dead pilot was identified as Luis Alvarez Regalado. The copilot was Lt. Alberto Bayo, officials said.

It was believed that four or five persons, including a woman, were involved in the plot. All of them apparently were armed. Authorities said they found "several" .45 caliber pistols in the area where the plane made the landing.

Officials indicated that the weapons were tossed away at random by the hijackers after their plot failed and the plane came to a halt.

Authorities quoted the surviving military guard aboard the plane, a DC3, as saying the hijacking attempt occurred a few minutes after takeoff.

One of the guards was in the compartment with the pilot. The other was in the rear of the plane.

Schoolboy Plane Wreckage Found

STAVANGER, Norway (UPI) — The wreckage of a chartered airliner carrying 34 English schoolboys to a holiday in Norway was found today in the coastal mountains southeast of Stavanger. Officials said there were "no survivors."

The plane was believed to have crashed in the mountains at dusk Wednesday during a storm.

In the plane with the boys were two teachers and three crewmen. The boys, all 12 to 14 years old, were en route with their teachers to a Norwegian vacation sponsored by the Lafranc School in Croydon, a suburb south of London.

The plane was a twin-engine Viking chartered from the Cunard Eagle Airways.

Second Flight Safe

Another all-student flight from a school in Harlow, England, landed safely in Stavanger Wednesday.

A Norwegian air force helicopter located the wreckage this morning near Lake Vostervann, about 21 miles from Stavanger, a port town on the North Sea about 200 miles southwest of Oslo. A police spokesman said the wreckage showed evidence of fire but it was not known whether this started before or after the crash.

The plane left London at 2:29 p.m., Wednesday and was due at Stavanger 2 hours and 20 minutes later.

The pilot, Capt. Philip Watts, lost radio contact with Stavanger's Sola Airport about five minutes from the field. A search was begun immediately.

The rainfall climaxed an unusually humid, cloudy day in which the mercury reached only 101. Rain was reported elsewhere in the region.

A clearer weather was forecast for today.

Heavy through brief rainfall was reported in some sections of Palm Springs early this morning, but both fire stations said none was measured at their locations.

Some residents said it rained quite heavily at their homes about 1 a.m.

K Saber-Rattling Countered With Peace Manifesto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today countered Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's latest saber rattling by renewing the U. S. pledge to use "every device available to us" to settle the Berlin crisis peacefully.

Deliberately avoiding all threats or references to possible war, the President told his news conference that the coming months would be devoted to finding ways "which will protect the rights of the people of West Berlin and our own rights."

"I can say that it is the strong conviction of the United States government that every means should be employed, every diplomatic means, to see if a peaceful solution to this difficult matter can be achieved," the President said.

He declared that Khrushchev, in his latest speech on Berlin, made no new proposal, but did "state his desire, as I have done before, to have negotiations on these matters which are in dispute."

The President did not say what form these negotiations would take. He added that he still believes no East-West summit would be useful "unless the groundwork has been laid beforehand and which will insure some success."

Kennedy said if a Western summit should prove important in coordinating Western policy, he thought it should be held and was prepared to go.

Kennedy's mood and words were in sharp contrast to Khrushchev's taunts Wednesday that "lunatics" in the West want war and that "if anyone attacks us, he will be committing suicide."

Instead of belligerently commenting on Berlin, Kennedy announced his decision to make one more effort to get the Russians to sign a treaty banning nuclear tests. He announced that the United States would reopen talks in Geneva Aug. 24, partly because of "the deep longing of the people of the world for an effective end to nuclear testing."

But simultaneously he announced that this meeting would be "decisive," and said that if it fails he would make the "appropriate decisions"—presumably resuming U.S. tests.

The President, appearing for the most part quite relaxed in contrast to his grim mood at his previous news conference three weeks ago, made these other points to the record attendance of 433 reporters:

And it went on to say that "The Lineau Village should . . . not be entirely developed for boys' baseball, but rather considered for a neighborhood playground that would include boys' baseball facilities."

The report urged that "parks should be combined with schools wherever possible, creating true centers of neighborhood and community activities and assuring maximum use and economical provision of land and facilities."

One site suggested for a future park was the present city dump. The city was urged to employ a private consultant to draw up a 10-year master park plan.

Preservation of nearby canyons in their present natural state was also recommended to the Councilmen.

"The Palm and Tahquitz Canyons and perhaps others," the report said, "are prime examples of areas that should be preserved for scenic purposes with a minimum amount of development . . . the city, the County of Riverside, and perhaps the state, should make every effort to assure that these areas be preserved."

The last phrase seemed to imply consideration of the canyons as a state park site.

Elmer Aldrich, chief of the state recreation division of Department of Natural Resources, forwarded the report to city officials this week, but City Recreation Director Howard Haddock said he had not had a chance to review it yet.

It was requested by Councilmen that a continuing study had been made since that time. A preliminary report made two weeks ago was sent back to the state department for clarification.

The municipal convention hall suggested in the report would be an auditorium "serving recreational, educational and cultural needs of city residents, as well as being an attractive entertainment for conventions and conferences."

On the subject of parks the report implied criticism of current city handling of its park development. "The passive type of development (at Tamaris Park) . . . should be augmented by more active neighborhood park development," one section read.

Pay Hike for Palm Springs

More Money from Courts in Fall

The City of Palm Springs is about to receive a pay increase on its police operations that should amount to more than $1,000 a month and may more than double municipal revenue from court fines and forfeitures.

That's the good word delivered by County Administrator Robert Andersen Wednesday in an appearance before the Palm Springs Rotary Club.

Andersen said the Board of Supervisors had just handled a measure passed in the last session of the legislature that changed the city-county division of local court revenue from 65 per cent to the county and 34 per cent to the city.

Effective Oct. 1, the city will get 65 per cent while only 35 per cent goes to the county.

Andersen said this completes action started two years ago when present inequities in the court revenue division were protested.

Under a formula in effect since 1951, Palm Springs has been getting 34 per cent, which amounted to only about $16,000 a year, while other cities in the county got double or triple the amount. Riverside, for example, has been getting $4 per cent; Beaumont, 85 per cent; Elsinore, 90 per cent, and Blythe the 91 per cent.

Budget Breakdown
A breakdown of the county budget for fiscal 1961-62 highlighted a talk in which Andersen touched upon numerous facets of county government procedures and problems.

Andersen hit the enormous cost to the county of charity and welfare — expenditure of $18,394,365, more than half the $36,151,847 budget total.

The full budget account reported included the following:
General government, including courts, election costs and property management, $4,182,000.

Protection of persons and property, including the sheriff and fire departments, jail and agriculture, $3,037,404.

Welfare Galore

Health and Sanitation, Health Department, plus Building & Safety Department and dump site program, $1,133,606.

Roads and parks, $3,387,964 and $117,763 respectively.

The huge welfare and charity totals include:

Hospital $2,941,649.

Probation Department and Juvenile Hall, $1,000,000.

Welfare, including old age and aid to needy children, $14,000,000. Completing the spending blueprint are $1,513,282 for capital projects and $407,616 for the county schools office and county library.

Desert Share

Questioned following the budget analysis about county tax sources and area expenditures, Andersen said that 37 per cent of county revenue came from the desert area, but he couldn't give a definite answer on the percentage that comes back here.

"It's difficult to answer as to all county departments but the welfare load is much greater in the west end of the county," Andersen said.

Regarding the welfare and aid programs, Andersen said a survey has shown that some recipients receive payments amounting to more than the pay received by some classes of county employees.

The administrator said some steps have been taken toward a work program for physically fit welfare cases, but progress along this line is slow because of legal requirements covering financial assistance from state and federal sources.

CD Chief Dwyer's Resignation Over Evacuee Remarks 'Possible'

There is "a decided possibility" that County Civil Defense Coordinator Keith Dwyer, whose Beaumont statements about taking up arms to repel plundering refugees in case of nuclear attack aroused a furor last week, may resign, George Berkeley, supervisor from the Fourth District said today.

"Dwyer is a pretty intelligent young fellow, and he might find it intelligent to resign," Berkeley stated.

"Not all the evidence is in. But based on the reports I've read in the newspapers and private information, I don't see how we can retain him."

Shoot Them
Since Dwyer, named civil defense coordinator six months ago, waved a revolver in front of a Beaumont audience and suggested that his listeners get one to shoot refugees if necessary, calls have been heard that the Board of Supervisors relieve him of his duties.

The Board, barring Dwyer's resignation, is expected to decide the question at a meeting next week. Two of the supervisors, Norman Davis and Paul Anderson, are on vacation and it would take a 3-0 vote of the attending members to fire Dwyer.

Last week Supervisors William Jones voted for dismissal, while Berkeley and Fred McCall voted for a delay so they could study the situation. In the meantime, Dwyer was ordered not to make any further public statements.

Arouse Interest

Gerkey told The Desert Sun this morning that he hoped the county government could take advantage of the public interest aroused by the controversy to develop a better civil defense program.

"We've been too lethargic," the supervisor said. He called for more shelters and stockpiling of surplus food in areas, such as the Coachella Valley, which have been designated by civil defense authorities as refugee-evacuee reception centers.

On the question of the refugees, Berkeley said that preparations should be made to take care of both them and this area's native population.

Senate Considers Air Piracy Death Penalty

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate, its rage cooled somewhat by the return of the second U.S. jetliner hijacked to Cuba, planned to act today on a proposal to let juries sentence sky pirates to die.

The seizure of a Pan American DC8 jetliner over Mexico Wednesday by a French-Algerian who forced the pilot to fly it to Havana sent senators into a burst of impassioned oratory.

Some of them demanded an embargo backed by arms and another suggested the U.S. "send in the Marines, the Air Force and the Army."

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., and GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., negotiated an agreement to postpone a vote on the anti-hijacking bill until today.

It was not until after the Senate adjourned for the day that Cuba released the plane, its passengers and crew.

The bill the Senate almost whipped through Wednesday would impose mandatory life imprisonment on anyone convicted of hijacking an American airliner.

Laurie Fighting Heart Attack

Al Laurie, Palm Springs developer, builder and former operator of Laurie's Steak Ranch, is hospitalized at Newport Beach following a severe heart attack late last month.

His wife, Marjorie Laurie, told the Desert Sun today that although the attack was "serious" her husband is recuperating nicely.

Hundreds of telegrams and telephone calls have been placed in inquiry to the hospital and to their Corona Del Mar home.

Laurie can have no visitors, and the calls bring his special nurse out of the room where he is under 24-hour care.

He is expected to be hospitalized another several weeks, and his wife has asked that his friends not call the hospital or send mail there, but if cards are sent, mail them to post office Drawer E, Palm Springs.

No Cooling for Sweaty Employees in City Hall

Air conditioning went out at City Hall Wednesday morning on one of the most humid days of the year when an electric compressor motor burned out.

Uncomfortable city employees were left without their usually comfortable refrigerated atmosphere from 10 a.m. until the end of the working day while a new motor was rushed from San Bernardino.

HAUSNER ENDS Twelve New Officers to SUMMATION Indio Highway Patrol ON EICHMANN

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Israeli Atty. Gen. Gideon Hausner today demanded conviction of Adolf Eichmann on charges he was responsible for the mass murder of six million Jews. He told the court all 15 counts "have been proved."

Hausner, winding up his three-day summation of charges against the former Nazi SS officer, ticked off the charges one by one.

They included "a crime against humanity... a crime against the Jewish people... an attempt to exterminate the Jewish people... membership in hostile organizations (the SS and Gestapo)."

The prosecution rested after Hausner finished. The court was adjourned until Monday, when attorney Dr. Robert Servatius sums up for the defense.

Eichmann sat in his bullet-proof glass box, a nervous tic above his right eye the only sign of emotion.

Twelve New Officers to Indio Highway Patrol

INDO — In a routine personnel shift, the California Highway Patrol office here is receiving 12 new men according to Captain Lloyd W. Watson, local commander.

"Ten of our regular officers are being transferred to other areas and the 12 replacements mean two additional patrolmen assigned to this office," said Captain Watson.

Increase in local population and heavier traffic indicated the need for bringing the force up to a complement of 32 men, Watson said.

All but one of the new officers are graduating from the Highway Patrol Academy at Sacramento today. They all report here for duty on Aug. 18. The one veteran patrolman is Charles McFarland who is returning to this area from Lancaster.

The new men are Robert J. Allee, Edward W. Anderson, Orville R. Anderson, Donald C. Beauchamp, Oscar M. Howell, Charles R. Jeffries, John E. Lighthill, Hugh A. McKenzie, Ronald G. Olson, Kenneth E. Pereira, and Robert G. Plant.

Those leaving Indio and their destinations are William R. Anderson, Fresno; Lawrence Baker, San Francisco; Orren Donner, San Andreas; William Ellis, Bakersfield; Charles Evans, San Diego; Orville Hieb, Santa Barbara; Don Hunter, Buellton; Kenney Linthicum, Riverside; Ed Stanfield, San Jose; and William Stephenson, West Los Angeles.

HOT SPRINGS CD CHIEF BACKS KEITH DWYER

DESERT HOT SPRINGS—Austin Finch, civil defense director for this resort town of 3,500 people, announced that he is "100 per cent behind (county civil defense chief) Keith Dwyer."

Finch, who said that "a few people have talked about civil defense, but very few have been interested enough to do anything for their own protection," emphasized that Desert Hot Springs has only enough food to last for two days in an emergency.

Discussing Dwyer's reported statements to a Beaumont civil defense workers' meeting calling for action to repel possible fleeing refugees from the metropolitan areas in case of nuclear attack, Finch said:

"I think he should be left alone. When a guy makes a mistake, you don't crucify him—you forget it."

Finch explained that he saw a possible constructive value to Dwyer's speech. "If what Dwyer says wakes people up to the danger, it is all to the good."

George Mueller, president of the Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce, had earlier responded to the county defense chief's statements by asserting "Desert Hot Springs is a town with a heart." The community would welcome fleeing evacuees, he said.

Finch, manager of the Desert Hot Springs County Water District, reported he had called two community meetings on civil defense with outside speakers. "Only 20 to 40 people bothered to attend," he said.

The one-day recess was agreed upon by Dist. Atty. Kit Nelson and defense counsel P. Basil Lambros. Lambros rested his case Wednesday at the conclusion of cross-examination of Cooley.

Cooley, 50, one-time TV personality and stand-in for Roy Rogers, is charged with the "murder by torture" of his wife, Ella May, 37, at the couple's Willow Springs ranch April 3. He has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Nelson announced he will not place rebuttal witnesses on the stand but will begin his final arguments Friday. The jury of 10 men and two women is expected to begin deliberations Monday.

Amusing Side Of Japan Trip Told

EDITOR'S NOTE: Marilyn Barrick of 1237 S. Riverside Dr., a student at San Jose State and graduate of Palm Springs High School, is one of 13 young Californians spending six weeks in Japan this summer on a Lion's Club exchange. In this second article to appear in The Desert Sun she comments on her experiences.

By MARLYN BARRICK

All of us have found one very important thing to be true about the people we have met during our travels. This is that every one never stops giving, bending over backwards, putting themselves out.

They are so anxious for us to learn about their country and to help others at home to understand and know them. No one could be treated better than we have been treated.

We have been having many amusing experiences. Our first day we plunged right into the celebrated Japanese bath. As a matter of fact, we rather overdid the entire thing.

It happened that our first night in Japan was spent at Hakone, which is a hot spring resort. We stayed at a beautiful Japanese hotel with darling rooms completely Japanese. As soon as we arrived we were served tea and cakes on our lacquered table in the center of the room.

We sat around on pillows and looked out the large window that covered the entire side of one wall. The green tea is very bitter, and the cakes are very strange, but we were excited and so we ate them.

We decided before dinner that we would take one of the "private" baths and change into our yukata, a summer kimono. When I say "private" I mean a bath for a small group instead of a large one.

Private Bath

In Japan the bath is a very important tradition. The first thing you do is to wash completely outside the bath. The floor here was of tile and there were water outlets all around the room. You sit on a little wooden stool and use a small bowl for water. Then after you are completely clean, you can get into the bath and soak.

However, this bath was so hot that we couldn't even stick our foot into it. Jo Jo Rosin tried and about burnt her leg off. But we felt pretty clean so decided to skip the soaking, figuring that the Japanese really have a capacity for heat endurance. Later we found that the bath can be regulated.

Public Bath

The next morning we were awakened at 6:30 a.m. Dr. Kanoko, one of the Lion's Club members with us, decided that we just could not pass up the experience of the "public" bath. At 6:30 a.m. most of us felt that we could pass it up, but about ten minutes later four of us finally managed to get down to the bath, still feeling pretty clean from the bath the night before.

This bath was large enough for about 20 women. It had windows one on one side that opened onto a forest. There was a door leading outside and although the four of us didn't try it, we were pretty certain that it led to the co-ed bath.

After breakfast we left by bus for Atami, called the Riviera of Japan, via Lake Hakone. We got to Atami about 2 p.m. and because we had about three hours before we were to catch the train for Nagoya, we went to rest at a hotel. By the way, the Japanese are great ones for resting.

Still Another

In Atami we had tea and ice cream and... another bath. This time we went on top of the roof of the hotel where we had a beautiful view of Atami and the train that ran up on the nearby mountain had a beautiful view of us. Actually the bath was pretty well hidden by frosted glass, but when someone on the train waved...

From Atami we took the electric train to Nagoya. Traveling on a train in Japan is quite an unforgettable experience. In the first place, Japanese trains are among the world's most efficient. The secret of this is that they travel very fast and when they stop in a station, it is for one minute.

When I say one minute, I mean exactly one minute. Just try and picture a group of 13 students, 9 of them girls, and imagine the luggage they could have. We have enough for a group four times our size.

What we did was to begin taking the luggage down from the racks about 10 minutes before we got into a station. Then we would open all the windows and the girls would get close to the door ready to jump out with our small luggage.

Become Trained

At the same time the boys were getting ready to throw the luggage out of the train window as soon as the train stopped. We got off and on trains several times during our trip to Kobe, our ultimate destination, and each stop helped us develop a real system.

When we finally did get on the trains and were settled, we began eating. There is everything from an entire meal in a box to eat down to beer and peanuts. Constantly, vendors are traveling through the car selling all sorts of foods, and when we stopped in a station there were vendors waiting to sell something through the window.

By the time we reached Kyoto we were stuffed from eating or drinking tangerines, tea, ice coffee, peanuts, fish cakes, given to us by a man across the aisle, and candy.

As soon as we reached our hotel in Kyoto we had a small dinner, though we wondered why, and then, of course, a bath. This particular day we had traveled about 150 miles by bus, train, and car, and had had three baths.

Easy Fixings

Make toasted corn bread the basis of an easy-to-fix summer meal. Prepare corn bread from a mix, following package directions. Cool. Cut cornbread into 4 rectangles and split each horizontally. Place on cooky sheet, split sides up. Slice 1 (12-ounce) can of luncheon meat. Place on cooky sheet. Toast in oven to desired brownness. Top cornbread with meat and spoon hot creamed peas on for a sauce. Serves 8.

POSED IN FRONT of the famous bronze figure of the Great Buddha in Kamakura, are Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Wolff of Mariscal Road. The Wolffs visited the historical city, while American President Line's SS President Wilson was anchored at Port Yokohama, in the course of her trans-Pacific voyage.

Sorority Headquarters Are Visited

A visit to the international offices of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in Kansas City, Mo., was a vacation highlight for Mrs. Pete (Dorothy) Breakey, who with her children, Joe and Barbara Ann, spent three weeks with her parents, the J. L. Hagers of St. Joseph, Mo.

From St. Joseph to Kansas City, Mrs. Breakey's 15-year-old daughter, Martha, joined her Rancho Mirage family. Martha is living with her grandparents, while attending high school in Missouri.

During her visit to the sorority headquarters, Mrs. Breakey, a Cathedral City member, registered Barbara Ann, who celebrated her third birthday while in St. Joseph, as a future Beta Sigma Phi.

Martha returned with her mother, to spend this month in the Breakey's Magnesia Falls home.

The Andy Phillips Return From East

The Andy Phillips of Rancho Mirage have returned home, via jet, after spending five days in Chicago.

While Phillips attended a meeting of the owners, coaches and referees of the new American Basketball League, Mrs. Phillips visited with relatives.

Mrs. Phillips' sister and brother-in-law, Marjorie and Cliff Buehner motored from their home in Goshen, Indiana, to visit their vacationing relatives.

WOMEN of The Desert

Residents Of 1000 Palms On The Go

Thousand Palms residents have been soaking up sun as well as culture this summer.

Misses Eve and Mary Finson returned recently from the Palo Alto area, where they took their brother, Ed Finson, to spend the remainder of the summer months with two daughters and their families in Cupertino and Palo Alto. Soon after their return, Miss Eve Finson left for La Jolla to spend her usual sojourn out of the desert's summer heat.

Mrs. Richard M. Hedlin and daughters, Judy and Karen, and Miss Mary Finson joined Mrs. A. E. Nelson and daughter, Miss Elizabeth Nelson, in attendance of the concert given by the U. S. Marine Band from Camp Pendleton in Banning's Reppeller Park bowl. The following evening the Nelsons and Miss Finson motored to Redlands to attend the Friday night Redlands Bowl presentation of Verdi's "La Traviata." Mrs. Nelson had attended a concert in Redlands earlier in the month, when the Redlands Bowl Symphony Orchestra with Mariquita Moll, soprano, as soloists were presented by the Redlands Symphony Music Assn., Inc.

The Louis Lawhons enjoyed a recent Sunday in San Diego, taking in as many of the sights there as possible, including the zoo, on their first trip to this southern city.

Pickled

NEW YORK (UPI) — Pickle potato salad is great with sandwiches or any other summertime favorites. Combine 1 cup each of chopped sweet gherkins and sliced celery with 1 medium onion, finely chopped, 6 cups of diced cooked potatoes, 2 1/2 cups of mayonnaise, 1-3 cup of sweet pickle liquid and salt and pepper to taste. Toss lightly but thoroughly. Chill. Serves 6 to 8.

ERMA CAN SPOT YOU—IN JUST 32 MILLIONTHS OF A SECOND!

That's how fast checks are processed by ERMA, Bank of America's new Electronic Recording Method of Accounting. When a check goes through ERMA's electronic "reader," each number is magnetized and sends out an electric impulse which is recorded by a computer. Even though a check may be folded or crumpled, ERMA reads it accurately, computes your statement in moments, without error. That's our ERMA—and she works only at Bank of America!

ERMA KNOWS ARABIC!

ERMA can't read handwriting. ERMA's language is made up of arabic numbers shaped in a certain way so that ERMA can read them at the speed of light—and without making a mistake. TOP AMERICAN ARTISTS SET AT REDLANDS

Two world-famed American artists will perform at Redlands Bowl next Tuesday and Friday.

Tuesday will mark the Bowl debut of the New York baritone of opera and concert, McHenry Boatright, and Friday will mark the return of Ruggiero Ricci, violinist. As a boy Ricci made one of his first important appearances at Redlands.

Tuesday's Community Sing will be at 7:30 p.m. with Wilbur H. Schowalter directing and Ruth Grinnell Fowler at the piano.

Boatright's accompanist will be Gwendolyn Koldofsky of Music Academy of the West at Santa Barbara and USC. He will sing Revel's "Don Quichotte a Dulcinee," "Vision Fugitive" from Massenet's "Herodiade," arias by Handel, and songs by Schumann, Brahms, Copland, Dello Joio and Barber. His final group will consist of spirituals, with his own piano accompaniment.

Ricci, with Carlo Bussotti at the keyboard, will play the Vivaldi-Respighi Sonata in A Major (Kreutzer), Prokofiev's Sonata in D Major (for violin alone) and short pieces by Bartok, Smetana and Paganini.

expansion of its Riverside Division board with the addition of two new members.

Named to board posts were Arthur Gregory Jr., a partner in Forsberg and Gregory, Redlands general contractors, and Fred Jennings, prominent Riverside real estate developer, Lloyd Austin, president of the bank revealed.

"Expansion of the Riverside Division board of the bank reflects the rapid growth of the three counties it serves — Riverside, San Bernardino and Imperial — and their growing importance in Southern California's economy," O. B. Ellingen, senior vice president of the division, said.

"Both Mr. Gregory and Mr. Jennings have had long and distinguished business careers in this region and are eminently qualified to advise and counsel the bank in its operations in the three counties," Ellingen added.

Facts Precede Decision

County Civil Defense Coordinator Keith A. Dwyer "put his foot in it," no doubt, when he advised Beaumont citizens to arm themselves to repel evacuees in case of nuclear attack on Los Angeles. On the other hand, the Riverside County Board of Supervisors probably took the right tack in not firing him immediately.

The supervisors instructed the county administrative officer to further investigate the county's civil defense situation as Dwyer is reflected in it, report back, then a decision on the officer's future status will be made.

Without one word in defense of Dwyer—if there is one—reasonably consider the position of the Board of Supervisors. It has heard of Dwyer's statement that citizens should protect themselves with arms against evacuees. It has heard that he said he wanted names of everyone saying unpleasant things about civil defense and that he would run a loyalty check on those persons.

The supervisors have indicated they deplore such remarks —to such an extent that they ordered Dwyer to keep his mouth shut on civil defense matters until they can check out the stories.

That check is underway now, and if it proves the statements were made, the supervisors can be expected to "can the guy."

But it is only proper that such a check be made first.

The filing of police charges against a youngster who admits a school prank sounds like stern medicine. But when the prank is an anonymous phone call about a "bomb" planted in the school, and when so many hundreds of lives are at stake, the action must be firm.

For school authorities have no quick way of distinguishing between the prankster and the genuine crackpot. They have to take each threat deadly seriously. Four times recently such threats have been received at Will Rogers. Each has proved a hoax. What a tragic responsibility would rest on a hoaxer's shoulders if school officials tired of the game of "Wolf!" and did nothing the very time the danger was real.

It is to guard against such a disaster that it must be publicly demonstrated that such hoaxing is no joke. There must be no persecution, but there must be prosecution.

(Christian Science Monitor)

America has been analyzed, dissected, reconnoitered, and philosophized about by visitors as varied as Alexis de Tocqueville and Simone de Beauvoir. From Bryce to Bruckberger these supertourists came to view the phenomenon.

Now a new, less penetrating, but nonetheless oddly fascinating estimate of America has been published — derived solely from the questions most often asked about the U.S.A. by people who have never been there.

The book "The U.S.A. Answers" is based on 3,500 questions most frequently put to the IBM machine at the 1959 American exhibition in Moscow. Answers were developed by researchers in some fifty government and private fact-finding agencies. From these, 1,800 Q&A what might be called the vital statistics of contemporary American civilization have been selected.

Some are hard - fact questions. ("How many radio and television sets are produced each year in the U.S.?" Others venture into subjective realms and, incredibly, emerge with crisp, matter-of-fact answers. ("What explains the impulse toward abstract art in Europe and the U.S.?")

As the questions range from what kind of stove the American housewife has to how the social security system works, a subtle picture is built up. It shows in just what way restless American experimenters have pragmatically built their culture differently from others. And at the same time it indicates how often this building process has answered universal human desires.

America has more than its revolution and is gadgets to offer the world. What appears most clearly between the lines of Q&A is the success that accrues to a society from being freely experimental with ideas and toughly practical about results.

LETTER

The Desert Sun,
Gentlemen:

The attitude of Keith Dwyer, whom your article on the front page of today's "Sun" designates as "civil defense co-ordinator, Riverside County," is an un-Christian, unpatriotic, dog-in-the-manager attitude.

The people who live on the coast are as much American citizens as we are. To protest, or to attempt to prevent their seeking refuge in our area, in case of trouble, in my opinion would be an act of treachery. Anyone advocating such measures is, in my opinion, a traitor to the American people, and is not worthy of holding any public office.

Very truly yours,
Herbert H. Foster

Stab in the Heart---

Dear Abby . . .

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman who works where I work. She seems okay, but is sort of nervous. Almost every afternoon, during our 2 o'clock break, she asks me to stand by the telephone while she dials a number, and then she has me ask for "Frank." Now I don't know what this is all about, and don't ask any questions because I figure it's none of my business. I happened to mention it to my wife, and she said I should tell this woman to ask for Frank herself. I don't want to make an enemy, and it's no big deal to do this small favor for a co-worker. Do you see anything wrong with it?

JERRY
DEAR JERRY: I see the same thing wrong with your wife telling this woman to ask for Frank. You are being used. It looks like a case of hanky-panky with Frankie.

DEAR ABBY: I am at the end of my rope. I have earned (and am still capable of earning) top wages as a secretary. Instead of working out, I must stay home and care for my husband's elderly father. Grandpa is 83, senile, and has no control over his kidneys. He puts things on the stove and forgets them. He smokes constantly, and I must watch him every minute to see that he doesn't set himself, or the house, on fire. The poor old man is very deaf and difficult to be with.

My husband says it is all right to leave him alone, but I know better. Grandpa has many other relatives, but they don't even bother to call up and ask how he is. Should I walk out and go to work? Or should I stay here and play nursemaid to my father-in-law?

THOROUGHLY DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: From your letter it is apparent that Grandpa needs around-the-clock care. If you can't hire someone, place him in a good nursing home that is equipped to keep him comfortable and well cared for.

This Side of The Sun

By R. F. 'Phat' Graettinger

And on TV there is football.
Here it is six weeks to fall

In the days when I was putting a shine on the football bench and accumulating a lot of splinters in the process, we didn't start football until late in September when it became a bit cooler.

We couldn't have taken it in July or August. The regulation football outfit in those days included shin guards, a nose guard and a heavily padded canvas union suit over a hot sweater. We went all summer without a haircut to provide extra padding for the inadequate headgear of the day.

THESE DAYS they start football before the baseball season is at the halfway mark. The Rams and Redskins are losing poundage fast in 100-degree, humid weather drilling for their game tomorrow night at the Coliseum. One high school game had been played before August 1.

Times have changed. Friday night I watched my first grid game of the season on TV. I wasn't hogging the set because the alternative programs, Gunsmoke, Rawhide and other Westerns, fail to gain a high rating from Mrs. G. who'd rather read the current best seller, anyway.

BUT THE POINT IS that a few years ago I couldn't have watched the Eagles and College All Stars play football on Friday night and the Angels and Orioles play baseball on Saturday night. Perhaps that's because I had no television set then because there was no television.

That baseball game Saturday night reminds me.

THE ANGELS may be down near the bottom of the American League but they're tops in the minds of southland baseball fans. The desert's Leonard K. Firestone, co-owner of the Los Angeles club, and his partners have done great things to promote the good will of the fans for the Angels.

During the season, they'll bring 26 road and home games of the club into the living rooms of TV freeloaders who can't, or won't, buck the Wrigley Field traffic.

WHEN THE DODGERS moved into the Coliseum, we lost our baseball TV, even the Game of the Week. That made many fans resentful. Then the Dodgers yielded slightly and telecast their games at Candlestick Park, San Francisco, into the Southland. Even when the Angels were playing at home in Wrigley Field.

Baseball fans I have talked to seem to feel that justice had been done when the Angels started televising their road games home while the Dodgers were in the Coliseum.

WHILE ONE CLUB clamped down on video because it might hurt the gate, the other put many of its games at Wrigley Field into the homes so that fans who, like I said above, are allergic to Avalon Blvd. traffic and parking gouges, could see the Big Names like Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle, Norm Cash, Rocky Colavito, in action in their living rooms between trips to the refrigerator.

That's why our Angels (they train here, you know) are higher in the Popularity League than they are in the American circuit or the Dodgers in the National.

Surveys Show Interest in Railroad Stocks

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two investment surveys today showed interest in railroad stocks, and at a time when the New York Stock Exchange report on six months' trading showed cash dividends in this group were below their figure for the same period a year ago.

The NYSE reported that of 58 railroad and railroad equipment firms listing common stocks on the exchange, the estimated cash payments for the first six months of 1961 were $163,277,350, down 5.9 per cent from the same period of 1960.

It found 38 of the 58 made payments in the first six months; three paid more, 26 paid the same, and 14 paid less.

About the same time, A. Wilfred May published his quarterly fund survey in the Commercial & Financial Chronicle, semi-weekly published in New York.

Turnover Increased
May analyzed the portfolio operations of 88 investment companies during the June quarter. He found it showed increases in turnover, and in net buying of common stocks by these companies, which have a total of $15.7 billion in net assets.

The exchange, he noted, showed a decline in volume in this period, but the transactions by the investment companies showed about a 10 per cent increase over the preceding quarter, compared with a 63 per cent increase during the first quarter.

The Chronicle analysis found the most favored groups included airlines, automobiles, banks, copper and nickel in the metals; oils, publishing, steels, and rails. Discussing the funds' activities, the Chronicle's exhaustive analysis said that "increased cyclical interest appeared in the rails, which in preceding quarters had been treated by the funds either with dislike or decidedly mixed feelings."

However, no railroad issues ranked among the top three "best-bought" issues. Only one road was among the list of 19 issues which the Chronicle survey found was bought by four or more fund managements and sold by none.

Needs Transfusion
Earlier in the week, the Value Line Investment Survey, distributed by Arnold Bernhard & Co., Inc., investment advisers, observed that "the ailing railroad industry has yet to emerge from the recession and badly needs a transfusion of improved earnings."

June quarter earnings were the lowest for the period in more than a decade, the Value Line Survey reported, and a third of the leading carriers have "unsatisfactory current financial positions."

"In the current strong industrial recovery, however, lies the hope of increased loadings and profits just ahead. A strong earnings rebound in the second half will probably relieve the financial pressure," it continued, even though new labor negotiations remain to be clarified.

As for rail equipments, the survey said improved rail earnings would not likely produce any "significant increase" in equipment buying before 1962; but that by 1964-66, the rails probably will be spending more on equipment.

Anti-Welfare Feeling Increases

By United Press International
"It is hard enough for a wage earner to support himself and his family alone without supporting the growing number of people on welfare."

The speaker was Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield. His remark may sum up an attitude towards welfare costs which is gaining supporters through the nation.

But compared to the vast cost of the nation's welfare programs, there has been little action taken to ease the wage earner's tax burden.

The subject of welfare payments got wide attention this summer when officials of Newburgh, N.Y., revealed a plan to tighten relief standards.

A debate boiled over whether the Newburgh officials could carry out their program and the issue has been taken to court. United Press International surveyed the situation in areas faced with similar problems and found that:

—There is no national clamor for cracking down on suspected relief cheats.

—Newburgh does not have a monopoly on the problems or on at least one of the suggested remedies.

High Cost of Welfare
Newburgh's city manager, Joseph McD. Mitchell, said his city's relief rolls account for 5 per cent of the population and cost the municipal government $1 million yearly, leaving $2 million for other expenses.

He authored a plan that, among other things would:

—Require able-bodied men on relief to work 40 hours a week for the city.

—Banish from the welfare rolls unwed mothers if they have any more illegitimate children.

The proposal to take action against unwed mothers has not found as much support in the nation as the work plan.

One official, John A. Bellew, director of the public assistance division of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, said such a restriction "just penalizes a baby for the sins of its parents."

New York state officials contended that such restrictions violate the rules under which federal funds are channeled into the states for redistribution to the needy. The federal program, which was set up during the depression, required all states to observe certain standards. Too wide a variance can halt the dollar flow from Washington.

Can Control Fraud
Still, there is room in the rules for state and local officials to patrol the relief rolls and stamp out fraud. At Oswego, another New York town about the size of Newburgh, Welfare Commissioner James P. McGrath said policing of the relief rolls saved his city $100,000 last year.

A total of 708 persons were taken off the relief rolls last month in Cook County, Illinois, because they spurned job offers. This, according to Welfare Director Raymond M. Hilliard, saved taxpayers $81,000.

Hilliard said his department has been taking such action for years. City Councilman John Reading, Oakland, Calif., read of the Newburgh plan and suggested City Manager Wayne E. Thompson look into it. Reading said that in Alameda, like Newburgh, one-third of the revenue goes to welfare.

Newburgh's program is similar to one that has been pushed in Oregon, according to Gov. Hatfield. Twenty-six of Oregon's 36 counties had work-relief programs last winter and at one time 500 to 600 men were engaged in such chores as clearing brush from roads.

At Helena, Mont., a work program for able-bodied welfare recipients began recently. The next step, which is regarded by Western officials as a virtual certainty now, would be a meeting of President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, French President Charles de Gaulle and probably West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer — if Adenauer is given another term in the Sept. 17 West German elections.

The summit leaders would take the final decision whether—and, if so, how—to approach the Russians for talks on Berlin.

French Reluctant
The French are particularly reluctant to make the first move, arguing that simply to offer talks means giving away one tactical point. De Gaulle also argues that negotiations can only weaken and certainly cannot improve the Western position.

The question remains — will Khrushchev in his present hurry-up mood fall in with the West's more leisurely timetable? He has made it clear that what he wants is not just a summit on Berlin but a summit on the whole cold war situation—and he wants it soon.

Betting among Western officials in Europe is that, one way or another, he will get it.

Transient Found Dead Near Indio Railroad Tracks

INDIO — The body of a man believed to have been a transient was found near the railroad tracks south of here Wednesday, apparently the victim of heat prostration, the Indio sheriff's substation reported.

The man was identified as Xenophon Poulos, age and address unknown. The body, sheriff's deputies reported, was fully clothed, except for belt and shoes which were nearby. "No indication of violence or foul play" was found, deputies said.

WHEELING BABY CARRIAGES and carrying their belongings, refugees from East Germany stream into barracks of a refugee camp at Giessen, Germany, following their arrival from West Berlin. SCIENTISTS SAY—

Risks Necessary To Our Survival

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Some of the nation's top scientific brains believe man must take calculated risks with his own health and safety if he would continue to progress or even to survive.

This was the consensus of more than 180 specialists from such diverse fields as public health and nuclear power development who attended a recent Congress on Environmental Health at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Rene Dubos of the Rockefeller Institute said society will continue to strive for comfort and protection from threats to health might result in "excessive regulation might result in social stagnation." He added: "A society that does not continue to grow through adventure and willingness to take chances is not likely to survive long in the modern world."

Patrolmen to Crack Down On Litterbugs

INDIO — California Highway Patrolmen will cooperate in the critical battle to prevent forest fires by vigorously enforcing the law which prohibits throwing lighted materials from vehicles, Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said.

"Persons who discard cigarettes, matches or other lighted material while they are driving constitute a severe menace to California forests and fields, which have been turned into tinderboxes by the hot, dry weather," he said.

"Besides specifically prohibiting the throwing of any lighted cigarette, cigar or any other flaming or glowing substance from a vehicle or upon any roadway," Captain Lloyd Watson, the Indio Area Commander, also called attention to the "litterbug" laws which prohibit the dumping, throwing, or spilling of trash, refuse, glass, or the throwing or depositing of any substance likely to injure any person, animal or vehicle upon the highway.

Captain Watson stated that the Highway Patrol would also conduct a vigorous campaign against these violations in keeping with its pledge to protect the lives and property of individuals using the highways and byways of the State of California.

Drysdale Hits And Hurls 8-3 Braves' Defeat

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Don Drysdale today accepted the acclaim of Los Angeles Dodgers fans for his best pitching performance of the year, which pleased the lanky hurler even more than his first grand-slam home run.

The Dodgers demolished the Milwaukee Braves by an 8-3 score Wednesday night for their 17th win out of the last 20 games. The victory kept them in first place by a full game despite Cincinnati's win over Philadelphia.

Drysdale, in recording his 10th victory, became the fourth Los Angeles Dodger to win 10 or more. The others are Johnny Podres with 14, Sandy Koufax with 13 and Stan Williams with 10.

11 Strikeouts

The Dodgers are the only club in the National League with four pitchers having 10 or more wins. Drysdale struck out 11 men to achieve a seasonal high. His best previous mark was 10 against the Chicago Cubs May 14. He set the Braves down with four hits, but two of them were homers by Joe Adcock, who drove in all the Milwaukee runs.

The Dodgers do not play again until Saturday when they open a three-game series with the St. Louis Cardinals. But manager Walt Alton ordered his team to convene tomorrow for a workout. "I guess I would have to say I preferred the win over the grand-slam homer," Drysdale grinned after the game. "Sure I was happy to drive in four runs, but it made me happier to have the club win."

SWINGING in an attempt to talk a Rookie no-hitter was Joe Louis, CVSLA slugger who met with the same end as his team-mates. Ump Don Stone called 'em, as a Rookie caught.

Youth in No-Hitter

Rookies Hit CVSLA 12-1

Chuck Lawrence pitched a no-hit game and he and his Dodger teammates got 14 hits of their own to take a 12-1 decision over a baffled Palm Springs Coachella Savings and Loan hardball team at the Polo Grounds last night.

A good crowd turned out to see the Rookies, a collection of high school all-stars from all over the state, lead from the first inning of the contest.

Lawrence struck out 11 while walking six in his no-hit effort. Only one Palm Springs player, Norman Ruiz, managed to hit the ball out of the infield.

The locals got their only run in the eighth inning when Sam Gillardo and Gary Fuentes walked and Gillardo scored on Frank Burgess' infield grounder and an error.

On the other side, two Palm Springs moundsmen failed to stop the Rookies. George Hertzke, CV-

SLA starter, hurled four innings of fairly good ball, but had to be relieved in the fifth after he let eight straight men reach base on five hits.

Leroy Segundo came on to put out the fire that inning, though the Rookies scored six runs in that wild fifth and were in complete command from that time on.

Spectacular Palm Springs fielding plays were the strong point of the local effort. At one point Bill Enz caught a fly in left field and fired to the catcher in time to enable Joe Lewis to tag out Tony Arrico. Arrico had run past the plate coming in to score and Lewis tagged him before he could get back.

The Rookies, who have played 25 games since edging Coachella Valley Savings and Loan 14-11 here last July 5, showed they had learned a lot since that time.

The Rookies' $100,000 bonus playing, who is expected to join the sponsoring Los Angeles Dodgers farm system at the conclusion of this summer's ball, went two for four at the plate, getting a triple and a single. He also walked once, flied out long to center field, and struck out.

Palm Springs' Cleo James, who has been invited to try out for the Minnesota Twins, and is sporting a batting average of over .500, failed to get a hit in four trips to the plate. James, who had a bad night, also committing two errors in the field, struck out, grounded out, popped out, and struck out again in that order.

AAU Swim Marks Threatened in Women's Meet

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — At least three records are almost certain to fall and others are expected to be wiped off the books in the 45th annual Women's Senior AAU outdoor swimming and diving championships which open today at Kelly Olympic pool and continue through Sunday.

On hand to compete in the 16-event meet are several hundred of America's speediest mermaids, including such stellar performers as Chris Von Saltza, top U.S. swimmer, and Ann Warner, fellow member of the champion Santa Clara, Calif., swim club; Carolyn House of Los Angeles A.C.; Becky Collins of the Riviera Club of Indianapolis, and Donna De Varone of Berkeley, Calif.

Sports in Brief

BOSTON (UPI) — The nine-game weekend pro-grid program gets underway at Boston tonight when the Patriots of the American Football League play host to the New York Titans.

ROANOKE, Va. (UPI) — Negro players on both sides, abiding by what they called an official decision, agreed today to play in a National Football League exhibition game Saturday between the Baltimore Colts and Pittsburgh Steelers at city-owned Victory Stadium, where seating is on a segregated basis.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer and a host of other top pros were scheduled to tee off today in the opening round of the 10th annual Insurance City Open golf tournament.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Mickey Wright, the slender slugger from Dallas, Tex., continued her assault on two women's professional golf records today when she teed off in the opening round of the $7,500 Kansas City Open.

TIJUANA (UPI) — Doctors at Primavera Clinic said bullfighter Jose Ramon Tirado should be out of danger today from his injury suffered last Sunday in the Plaza Monumental.

Tirado was thrown against the side of the bull ring by a bull named Little Boy. He underwent three hours of surgery and physicians at one time gave him only a 50-50 chance to live.

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — A couple of golfers—Barbara McIntire, Jupiter, Fla., and Jo Anne Gunderson, Kirkland, Wash., led a field of 16 into the third round of the 31st annual Trans-Mississippi Tournament here today.

AGUA CALIENTE, Mexico (UPI) — William E. Smith, an unemployed Hollywood actor, Wednesday picked up $75,999.60 at Caliente Race Track. The bundle was his reward for picking five of six winners in the 5-10 Handicapping Contest last Sunday.

NO TAKEOFF resulted from this winged racer's run at the Daytona Beach, Fla., International Speedway. Art Malone has topped 176 mph in the experimental car, failed to top 180 for the $10,000 offered.

Welders Tab Colony 4-2; Savers Win 12-0

Chuck's Welders took the clash of the titans with a 4-2 win over the strong Mexican Colony club in the Polo Grounds.

Neal Green fanned 13 in the set, and gave up only two hits. The Colonials tallied two hits, two runs, two errors in the session, while the Welders' went four runs on six hits, with two errors.

The count started in the bottom of the fourth when Chick Foster went two bags on an error, and home on Leon Kindy's single smash through center. In the bottom of the fifth, John Laster was safe on an error, and came in ahead of O. B. Crawford who belted a line drive, and galloped home when the ball bounced off a fielder's glove.

Frank Prieto got on in the seventh on a pitched ball, and scored on Lennie Ruiz' homer.

The CVSLA squad foreclosed on the hapless California Water and Telephone crew in a 12-0 night canner.

Jim Savis surrendered five hits, which went no where. For the Savers, LeRoy Segundo poled three for three, Cleo James two for two, and Larry Sitter two for three. James scored four tallies.

Spahn Lauded As He Nears 300 Try

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Former New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel lavished praise today on Milwaukee Braves pitcher Warren Spahn on the eve of his bid for victory No. 300, describing him as "beyond comparison" with any modern left-hander.

"He has beaten every hand-cap — the live ball, second division teams, everything," said Stengel. "No one can ever say anything to deny his greatness. We always knew he was great."
